

UNLAWFUL BANKRUPTCY LEADS TO CITIZENS ARREST¹ - DUE TO SERIOUS BREACHES OF LAW BY PUBLIC AUTHORITIES

On 22nd Feb 2011, Mr Gedaljahu Ebert² from North London, will take the law into his hands by means of a citizens arrest that he has announced to the Home Secretary Teresa May MP³.

Mr Ebert owned a property management business with some 30 employees which was highly successful. However, he had an enemy who used the services of public authorities such that they led to a bankruptcy that was fraudulent, since there was no debt. Stunned by the experience, Mr Ebert studied all the laws involved and discovered that

- Regarding his property – where he plans to stage the citizens arrest with the aid of the “Battle Bus”
 - The Police evicted him and his family without the papers required by law
 - A new building was erected on his land without appropriate planning permission
 - Crime reports have not been investigated by the Police
 - His Local Council admitted to the criminal activities but did not do anything about it.
- Regarding his bankruptcy – as pointed out by us to the Lord Chancellor⁴
 - Documents are being sealed with HM seal without the evidence required
 - Sealed documents are being accepted at face value as if they were true
 - Resulting summary judgements of no prospect of success or without merit are a ‘code’ to deny victims access to justice and a fair trial which is a fundamental human right.

Mr Ebert has sadly discovered that LOTS of people have gone through similar experiences. He has since tried to help a fair number of them. Even sadder though, is the fact that victims are being fobbed off and sent from one authority that is “not responsible” to another. Hence the Forum for Stable Currencies is campaigning for a Public Inquiry into White Collar Crime⁵.

The above is a symptom of the real problem: the immunity from prosecution that is enjoyed by public authorities. This has been enshrined by the Royal Charter⁶ and bestowed on more than 1000 organisations: first to the City of London (1067), then the Bank of England (1694) and then the Law Society (1845).

This illustrates the tipping point that society has reached where nobody controls the controllers or regulates the regulators, except money. The City of London is expected to operate according to “self-regulation”. The Bank of England is assumed to work for the good of the nation, while it contravenes the Bank of England Act 1694⁷ and aids in seemingly legalised fraudulent operations. Lawyers and judges are supposed to deliver justice, but websites such as Solicitors from Hell⁸, Crooked Lawyers⁹ and Scotland against Crooked Lawyers¹⁰.

But in a system of Dishonest Money¹¹, where public debts are created without creating the interest, those who have jobs in the Establishment will do anything to keep them, as they bow to those with the deepest pockets. For money makes the world go round¹², even or especially because its creation is possibly the biggest white collar crime – or at least the contemporary version of The Emperors New Clothes¹³.
